

INDUS STATE UNIVERSITY

Grievance and Student Support

Fictional university knowledge-base document for AI/RAG chatbot testing.

Grievance Process

- Students should first contact the office or department responsible for the issue.
- If the matter is unresolved, the student may submit a formal grievance through the Student Grievance Cell.
- Students should include their name, enrollment number, issue description, relevant documents, and contact information.

Academic Complaints

- Academic concerns may be raised with the course instructor, department coordinator, or Academic Office as appropriate.
- Attendance discrepancies should be reported promptly with supporting information.

Fee and Administrative Complaints

- Fee-related issues should first be raised with the Accounts Office.
- Admission-related issues should be raised with the Admission Office.
- Examination-related issues should be raised with the Examination Office.

Confidentiality and Conduct

- Students should provide accurate information when submitting grievances.
- False or abusive submissions may be handled according to applicable university rules.
- Students should retain their grievance acknowledgement or reference number.

Common Questions

- How do I file a complaint? Contact the responsible office first and use the formal Grievance Cell process if necessary.
- Who handles academic complaints? Course instructor, department coordinator, or Academic Office depending on the issue.
- Who handles fee complaints? Accounts Office.